INFRARED AND RAMAN SPECTROSCOPY

Information Retrieval and Communication

World-Wide Communication of Spectroscopic Information by Forrest F. Cleveland	2
Methods of Storing, Retrieving, and Correlating Infrared Spectral Data by Freeman H. Dyke, Jr.	6

Instrumentation

Methods of Far Infrared Spectroscopy by T. K. McCubbin, Jr.	15
The Advantages of Interference Spectroscopy Over Con- ventional Infrared Spectroscopy by Sol M. Norman	23
Nanosecond Time Responses of Different Indium Antimonide Photodetectors by Heinz Fischer and Harold Rose	29
A Double-Beam Automatic Prism-Grating Infrared Re- cording Spectrophotometer by Martin H. Gurley III and Edward Merrill	34
Ruby Optical Maser as a Raman Source by S. P. S. Porto and D. L. Wood	38

Molecular Structure

Raman and Infrared Spectra of the Dicyanamide Ion by Alfred J. Perkins	43
The Vibrational Spectra of trans-C ₂ H ₂ I ₂ and trans-C ₂ D ₂ I ₂ by Robert H. Krupp, Edward A. Piotrowski, Forrest F. Cleveland, and Sidney I. Miller	52
Raman Spectral Data, Assignments, Potential Energy Constants, and Calculated Thermody- namic Properties for CH ₂ Cl ₂ , CHDCl ₂ , and CD ₂ Cl ₂ by Brother F. E. Palma, S. M., and K. Sathianandan	58

General

- Ortho-Substituent Effects and the Fundamental NH_2 Stretching Vibrations in Anilines
by Peter J. Krueger 65
- Solvent Effects on the Infrared Spectra of Organophosphorus Compounds
by John R. Ferraro 89

NUCLEAR MAGNETIC RESONANCE

- Anomalous Chemical Shifts in the Proton Magnetic Resonance Spectra of the Dimethylcyclohexanes and Related Hydrocarbons
by Norbert Muller and William C. Tosch 98
- Determination of Fat in Corn and Corn Germ by Wide-Line Nuclear Magnetic Resonance Techniques
by T. F. Conway and R. J. Smith 115

ULTRAVIOLET AND VACUUM ULTRAVIOLET SPECTROSCOPY

- Far Ultraviolet Analysis of Steroids and Other Biologically Active Substances
by W. F. Ulrich 130
- Absorption Spectra of Uranyl Halides
by K. V. Narasimham 142

EMISSION SPECTROSCOPY

- Time-Resolution Spectroscopy
by Francis D. Harrington 162
- Introductory Remarks at the Optical Emission Problem Clinic
by J. F. Woodruff 198
- Quantovac Analysis of Copper and Copper-Base Alloys
by H. T. Dryer and B. R. Boyd 200
- Use of a Vacuum Cup Electrode for Spark Emission Spectrographic Analysis of Plant Tissue
by S. T. Bass and J. Soulati 211
- Analysis of High-Purity Chromium
by R. E. Heffelfinger, E. R. Blosser, O. E. Perkins, and W. M. Henry 219
- A Feature Direct-Reading Spectrograph
by Walter G. Driscoll 226

Carbon Internal Standard in the Spectrochemical Analysis of Lubricating Oil by J. H. LaSell	239

X-RAY SPECTROSCOPY

Absorption

Some Unsolved Problems in X-ray Absorption Spectrometry by H. P. Hanson	254
X-ray Absorption Edge Studies of Supported Cobalt Catalysts by Rolland O. Keeling, Jr.	263
Single-Crystal Spectrometers for X-ray Absorption Spec- troscopy by George J. Klems, Badri N. Das, and Leonid V. Azároff	275
X-ray Absorption Fine-Structure Investigations at Cryogenic Temperatures by Farrel W. Lytle	285
Applications of X-ray Absorption Edge Analysis by E. A. Hakkila and G. R. Waterbury	297
X-ray Absorption Fine Structure in Glass by W. F. Nelson, I. Siegel, and R. Wagner	308

Emission

A Suggested Approach to the Teaching of X-ray Spectroscopy by William F. Loranger	322
X-ray Spectroscopy in Biology and Medicine. Preliminary Report on the Microanalysis of Human Tissues for Iron, Zinc, and Potassium by James C. Mathies and Paul K. Lund	326
Analysis of Nonmetallics by X-ray Fluorescence Techniques by B. R. Boyd and H. T. Dryer	335
Some Special Problems in the X-ray Spectrographic Analysis of Plate and Container Glass by Stephen H. Laning	350
A Rapid X-ray Fluorescence Method for the Determination of V, Cu, Mo, Ti, Co, and Ni by E. D. Pierron and R. H. Munch	360

GAS CHROMATOGRAPHYPreparative

A Review of Preparative Gas Chromatography by John A. Perry	368
A Completely Automatic Preparative Scale Gas Chromatograph by J. M. Kauss, J. Peters, and C. B. Euston	383
Programed-Temperature Preparative Chromatography by Nathaniel Brenner and Donald R. Bresky	394
A Remote Injection and Fraction Collection Apparatus for Preparative Chromatography by W. H. Penney and J. P. Windey	409
Temperature-Programed Capillary Columns by F. L. Boys	415

General

A Technique for the Identification of Volatile Flavor Components in Foods by Reed Jensen and Stuart W. Leslie	426
Some Applications of Gas Chromatography to Forensic Chemistry by Daniel T. Dragel, Ed Beck, and Andrew H. Principe	431
