

Essays of an Information Scientist

CONTENTS

Volume One

Foreword xi Preface xix

date	page
19 June 62	1	The ideal library—the Informatorium.
7 Aug 62	2	Who are the information scientists?
25 June 63	3	Current Contents reader survey.
20 Aug 63	4	New author address directory.
26 Nov 63	5	Aesthetics in scientific communication.
8 Sept 64	6	What is a journal?
6 Oct 64	8	Towards the world brain.
1 June 65	10	Is the 'free reprint system' free and/or obsolete?
21 Feb 67	12	Current Contents —ninth anniversary.
22 Aug 67	16	Publication dates—realities or promises?
5 Sept 67	17	Addresses and ZIP codes.
10 Nov 67	18	200th 'anniversary' of Index Chemicus .
26 Dec 67	19	English—an international language for science?
9 Apr 68	21	Decision making in libraries acquisitions—indexes or journals?
30 July 68	22	ASCAmatic —the personalized journal.
30 Aug 68	23	Some elementary economics of publishing.
15 Oct 68	24	When does your Current Contents arrive?
8 Nov 68	25	The value of article titles in bibliographic citations.

| Reprint | 49 | A. E. Cawkell. Search strategies using the Science Citation Index . From: Computer based information retrieval systems , ed. B. Houghton (London: Clive Bingley Ltd., 1968). |
| 28 Nov 69 | 63 | Introducing Current Abstracts of Chemistry and Index Chemicus . |
| 23 Dec 69 | 65 | OATS —an economic alternative to 'free' library service and 'free' reprints. |
| 30 Dec 69 | 67 | The problem of overlap—is veterinary science agriculture and is engineering-technology physical science? |
| 7 Jan 70 | 68 | Current Contents/Agricultural, Food & Veterinary Sciences —part of the growing ISI program. |

Contents

- 14 Jan 70 69 Would Mendel's work have been ignored if the Science Citation Index was available 100 years ago?
- 20 Jan 70 71 Why medical research?
- Reprint 71 E. Garfield. The long cold sleep (book review).
New Scientist 46:590, 1970.
- 28 Jan 70 73 A new ISI grant program attempts to strike a balance between user needs and the cost of information services.
- 4 Feb 70 75 The ISI grant program—assistance for smaller colleges and departmental libraries.
- 11 Feb 70 77 A suggestion for improving the information content of authors' names.
- Reprint 77 E. Garfield. British quest for uniqueness versus American egocentrism. Nature 223:763, 1969.
- 18 Feb 70 79 A new multidisciplinary section for Current Contents services.
- 25 Feb 70 81 Joshua Lederberg—multidisciplinarian extraordinaire.
- 4 Mar 70 83 Can criticism and documentation of research papers be automated?
- Reprint 84 E. Garfield. Can citation indexing be automated?
From: Statistical association methods for mechanized documentation, Symposium proceedings, Washington, 1964, ed. M. E. Stevens et al. (Washington: National Bureau of Standards, Miscellaneous Publication 269, 1965), p. 188–92.
- 11 Mar 70 91 A new ISI program for dissemination and retrieval of conference papers.
- 18 Mar 70 93 INFO-EXPO/70, the second annual meeting of the Information Industry Association.
- 25 Mar 70 95 Education by steeping, nibbling, or classification?
- 1 Apr 70 96 ASIS national convention and the information-conscious society.
- 8 Apr 70 98 What does automation of citation mean?
- 15 Apr 70 100 SCI and ASCA promote international contacts.
- 22 Apr 70 102 Calling attention to Chauncey D. Leake, Renaissance scholar extraordinaire.

Contents

- 29 Apr 70 104 Concerning cover-to-cover translation journals.
- 6 May 70 106 What is a significant journal?
- 3 June 70 108 Some kudos for Current Contents on its 650th consecutive issue.
- 15 July 70 109 The retrieval and dissemination of chemical information. (1).
- 22 July 70 111 The retrieval and dissemination of chemical information.
2. The Wiswesser Line Notation.
- 29 July 70 113 The retrieval and dissemination of chemical information.
3. The Index Chemicus Registry System (ICRS).
- 5 Aug 70 115 The retrieval and dissemination of chemical information.
4. ICRS RADIICAL software.
- 12 Aug 70 117 When is a negative search positive?
- 19 Aug 70 119 Trained scientists use Science Citation Index to complete bibliographic citations and update searches.
- 26 Aug 70 120 Citation measures used as an objective estimate of creativity.
- Reprint 120 E. Garfield. Objective estimate of creativity.
Chem. Eng. News 44(46):6, 1966.
- 2 Sept 70 122 Precise bibliographical verification with the Science Citation Index.
- 9 Sept 70 124 Information theory and the evaluation of information retrieval systems.
- 16 Sept 70 126 Is publication in 'minor' journals tantamount to burial?
- Reprint 126 E. Garfield. Science publication.
Chemistry in Britain 5(1):37, 1970.
- 23 Sept 70 128 Use of Current Contents in developing countries.
- 30 Sept 70 130 Kudos for ISI's ASCA from abroad!
- 4 Nov 70 131 Does the SCI increase or decrease mediocrity?
- 18 Nov 70 132 Citation indexing for studying science.
- Reprint 133 E. Garfield. Citation indexing for studying science.
Nature 227:669-71, 1970.
- 25 Nov 70 139 Location of milestone papers through citation networks.

Contents

- Reprint* 139 E. Garfield & A. E. Cawkell. Location of milestone papers through citation networks. J. Library History 5:184-88, 1970.
- 23 Dec 70* 142 Source indexing through bibliographic citations brings UFOs down to earth.
- 30 Dec 70* 144 Current Contents coverage of chemistry in a multidisciplinary world—announcing Current Contents/Physical & Chemical Sciences.
- 6 Jan 71* 146 Does ISI's international directory of R&D authors and organizations perpetrate alphabetic discrimination?
- 27 Jan 71* 148 CC's new computer composed author address directory.
- 10 Feb 71* 150 How the Science Citation Index overcomes the linguistic and terminologic barriers to precise information retrieval.
- 17 Mar. 71* 152 Jacob Gershon-Cohen, M.D., D.Sc.—in memoriam.
- 24 Mar 71* 154 Neither rain, nor snow deters ISI's pony express man in London.
- 14 Apr 71* 156 Citation indexing and the sociology of science.
- Reprint* 158 E. Garfield. Citation indexing, historio-bibliography, and the sociology of science. From: Proceedings of the third international congress of medical librarianship (Amsterdam: Excerpta Medica, 1970), p. 187-204.
- 28 Apr 71* 175 Who is Publishing in Science—and how much?
- 12 May 71* 177 Noise-abatement R&D could help employment problems of physicists.
- 2 June 71* 179 Publication counting vs citation counting in evaluating research.
- 9 June 71* 182 Current Contents receives first Information Industry Hall of Fame award—and publishes its 700th consecutive issue.
- 16 June 71* 184 New Chemical Substructure Index is creative theoretical tool for molecule manipulators as well as practical system for retrieval.
- 23 June 71* 186 ISI announces a five-year cumulation of the Science Citation Index.

Contents

- Reprint* 188 M. Weinstock. Citation indexes (part 1). From:
Encyclopedia of Library and Information Science
(New York: Marcel Dekker, 1971), vol. 5, p. 16–40.
- 30 June 71 196 Will anyone need SCI in a deathless, computerized world?
- Reprint* 198 M. Weinstock. Citation indexes (part 2).
- 7 July 71 206 The value of an index is inversely related to search-time.
- Reprint* 207 M. Weinstock. Citation indexes (part 3).
- 14 July 71 217 ASCA, ASCATOPICS, and cyclic AMP.
- 28 July 71 219 Using the SCI to avoid unwitting duplication of research.
- 4 Aug 71 222 The mystery of the transposed journal lists—wherein Bradford's law of scattering is generalized according to Garfield's law of concentration.
- 11 Aug 71 224 Play the new game of twenty citations! Wherein ISI reveals the fifty most frequently cited 'non-journal items'.
- 18 Aug 71 229 Is death the last best friend or the ultimate enemy—conference on thanatology and prolongevity signal increased research with seemingly contradictory objectives.
- Reprint* 229 Review of: G. J. Gruman. A history of ideas about the prolongation of life. Transactions of the American Philosophical Society, volume 56, part 9, 1966, 102 pp.
- 25 Aug 71 231 ISI announces availability of a weekly subject index to Current Contents/Life Sciences.
- 1 Sept 71 233 Deliberate omission of explicit citations of textbook errors is irresponsible science communication.
- 9 Sept 71 235 Science, information science, and the information-conscious society.
- Reprint* 236 E. Garfield. Information science and the information-conscious society.
J. Amer. Soc. Inform. Sci. 22:71–73, 1971.
- 15 Sept 71 240 The Weekly Subject Index to CC/Life Sciences makes for zero delay in current awareness and information retrieval.
- 22 Sept 71 242 Relationship between basic and applied research illustrated by SCI case study in anesthesiology.

Contents

- Reprint* 242 A. E. Cawkell. Science Citation Index; effectiveness in locating articles in the anaesthetics field; 'perturbation of ion transport'. Brit. J. Anaesthesia 43:814, 1971.
- 6 Oct 71 245 A. E. Cawkell, information detective—and ISI's man in the UK.
- Reprint* 245 Information detective. New Scientist 45:274–75, 1970.
- 10 Nov 71 247 Cost/benefit analysis and core journal collections in scientific libraries.
- Reprint* 247 M. Weinstock. Bradford's law. Nature 233:434, 1971.
- 22 Dec 71 249 How SCI bypasses 'the road to scientific oblivion'.
- Reprint* 249 E. Garfield. The road to scientific oblivion. J. Amer. Med. Assoc. 218:886–87, 1971.
- 29 Dec 71 251 New CC/LS Weekly Subject Index means even greater coverage in the Science Citation Index.
- 5 Jan 72 253 A Current Contents odyssey from 200 to 1100 journals plus a Weekly Subject Index (WSI) with zero time-lag.
- 12 Jan 72 255 A basic journal collection; ISI lists the fifty most-cited scientific and technical journals.
- 19 Jan 72 258 A Weekly Subject Index for discovery and recovery of information in the life sciences.
- 26 Jan 72 260 Introducing Herbert S. White, ISI's senior vice-president for operations and administration.
- 2 Feb 72 262 What is the 'core' literature of biochemistry as compared to the 'core' of chemistry? (Journal citation studies. 1.)
- 9 Feb 72 266 Information, power, and the Science Citation Index.
- 16 Feb 72 268 Citation statistics may help scientists choose journals in which to publish.
- 23 Feb 72 270 Citations-to divided by items-published gives journal impact factor; ISI lists the top fifty high-impact journals of science.
- 1 Mar 72 274 What is the 'core' literature of chemical physics? (Journal citation studies. 2.)
- 8 Mar 72 278 ISI's special services group can provide your own personalized Current Contents or ASCATopics.

Contents

- 15 Mar 72 280 Where the action is, was, and will be—for first and secondary authors.
- 22 Mar 72 284 Society's need for paramedical and information scientists is no coincidence.
- 29 Mar 72 287 Should journal publication dates be controlled by legislation.
- 5 Apr 72 289 Is citation frequency a valid criterion for selecting journals?
- 12 Apr 72 291 Uncitedness and the identification of dissertation topics.
- 19 Apr 72 292 ISI's Journal Citation Index data-base—a multi-media tool.
- 26 Apr 72 296 Introducing Morton V. Malin, Ph.D., ISI's vice-president for corporate planning and international relations.
- 3 May 72 298 'Word-phrases' in CC's Weekly Subject Index (WSI) increase search efficiency.
- 10 May 72 300 Introducing Richard M. Harris, ISI's vice-president for marketing.
- 17 May 72 302 ISI's Chemical Substructure Index —research resource and invaluable tool for health and environmental sciences!
- Reprint 304 C. E. Granito & M. D. Rosenberg. Chemical Substructure Index (CSI) —a new research tool. J. Chem. Documentation 11:251–56, 1971.
- 24 May 72 314 ISI's Who is Publishing in Science (WIPIS) offers instant access to research and research workers worldwide.
- 31 May 72 317 The new Social Sciences Citation Index (SSCI) will add a new dimension to research on man and society.
- 7 June 72 320 Citation studies indicate that two copies may be cheaper than one!
- 14 June 72 322 Technology assessment, citation analysis, and invisible radiations.
- 21 June 72 324 Putting scientific information to work is the name of the game—and of ISI's film.
- 28 June 72 325 If secrecy is human, is information-sharing 'divine'?

Contents

- 28 June 72 326 Journal citation studies. 3. Journal of Experimental Medicine compared with Journal of Immunology; or how much of a clinician is the immunologist?
- 5 July 72 330 Advertising, education, and marketing of information services.
- Reprint 332 The social contribution of advertising; a statement prepared by the Advertising Association in conjunction with the European Association of Advertising. New Scientist 18 May 1972.
- 12 July 72 333 Why is information science engineering more than publishing?
- 19 July 72 334 'Cover-to-cover' translation of Soviet journals—a wrong 'solution' of the wrong problem.
- 26 July 72 336 ASCA plus OATS equals the 'repackaged' or 'personalized' journal.
- 2 Aug 72 338 Journal citation studies. 4. The literature cited in rheumatology is not much different from that of other specialties.
- 9 Aug 72 342 ISI announces forthcoming publication of CC/CP — Current Contents/Clinical Practice.
- 16 Aug 72 348 How can you separate agriculture, biology and environmental sciences from life sciences (if you must)?
- 23 Aug 72 352 What your air-conditioner may be giving you besides relief.
- 30 Aug 72 354 'Explosive-welding' search reverberates in Moscow seminar on citation networks.
- 6 Sept 72 359 Reprint exchange. 1. The multimillion dollar problem ordinaire.
- 13 Sept 72 361 ISI's new Weekly Subject Index to Current Contents/Physical & Chemical Sciences will improve access to the literature of mathematics, as well as physics and chemistry.
- 20 Sept 72 363 Reprint exchange. 2. Project REX is ISI's code name for contemplated reprint expediting service.
- 27 Sept 72 365 Information science then, now, and tomorrow—or will the real information scientist please stand up!
- 4 Oct 72 366 ISI's SCISEARCH time-shared system trades time for money—but are you ready for this?

Contents

- 11 Oct 72 368 'Hi-fi' lists in ASCA system reduce noise while measuring research activity.
- 18 Oct 72 370 Will the real Current Contents reader please stand up!
- 25 Oct 72 372 Since information isn't free, why not direct stipends to prime the information pumps?
- 1 Nov 72 374 Introducing Samuel Lazerow, ISI's vice-president for administration.
- 8 Nov 72 376 What is a journal?
- 15 Nov 72 378 ISI's CHEMTRAN 'compatibilizes' files of encoded chemical structures.
- 22 Nov 72 380 Of presidents, politics, and chicken-pluckers.
- 29 Nov 72 381 Unintelligible abbreviations and sloppy words in article titles create magic (invisible) spots for indexers.
- 6 Dec 72 384 Current Contents/Clinical Practice —a new tool for optimum selection in maintaining current awareness.
- 13 Dec 72 386 Are you ready for chemical linguistics? chemical semantics? chemical semiotics? or, why WLN?
- 20 Dec 72 389 Introducing Marvin Schroeder, ISI's treasurer.
- 27 Dec 72 391 Will the cancer 'information explosion' produce another government boondoggle or a boon for scientists?
- 3 Jan 73 393 To read or not to read—can clinical practitioners keep up?
- 3 Jan 73 395 If ISI's weekly subject indexes aren't perfect, whose are?
- 10 Jan 73 397 The information revolution reaches the social sciences—ISI helps bridge the gap between the two cultures.
- 17 Jan 73 400 Citation analysis of pathology journals reveals need for a journal of applied virology!
- 24 Jan 73 404 International science requires cultural as well as economic 'imperialism'.
- 31 Jan 73 406 Citation frequency as a measure of research activity and performance.

Contents

- 7 Feb 73 409 Citation frequency and citation impact—and the role they play in journal selection for Current Contents and other ISI services.
- 14 Feb 73 411 Should ISI adopt an author fee to promote better dissemination of dissertations and other non-journal material?
- 21 Feb 73 413 Uncitedness III—the importance of not being cited.
- 28 Feb 73 415 An old admonition (with a new meaning) from non-smokers: Live! and Let live!
- 7 Mar 73 417 If you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen! Publishing journals is not kid-stuff!
- 14 Mar 73 418 We need a lobby for basic research; here's how it might be done.
- 21 Mar 73 421 Variety is the spice of life—whether in people, language, or the contents pages in CC.
- 28 Mar 73 423 Journal citation studies. 5. Is paleontology a life or a physical science? JCI reveals gap in coverage of paleontology and need for better small journal statistics.
- 4 Apr 73 425 A growth in biomedical literacy is changing the doctor-patient relationship!
- 11 Apr 73 428 Some implications of the Soviet Union's becoming party to the Universal Copyright Convention.
- 18 Apr 73 431 Copyright revision bill requires priority action to meet needs of the information revolution.
- 25 Apr 73 435 Publishing referees' names and comments could make a thankless and belated task a timely and rewarding activity.
- 2 May 73 438 Introducing the Copywriter and ISI's subsidiary, Selective Information Devices, Inc. (SID).
- 9 May 73 442 Introducing ANSA—ISI's automatic new structure alert—a compound-retrieval service for people more interested in compounds than retrieval!
- Reprint 443 E. Garfield, G. S. Revesz & J. H. Batzig. The synthetic chemical literature from 1960 to 1969. Nature 242:307-09, 1973.

Contents

- 16 May 73 448 ISI's Press Digest helps narrow the gap between the the scientist and the layman.
- 23 May 73 450 Students' grades and student gradings.
- 30 May 73 452 Citation impact depends upon the paper, not the journal! Don't count on 'citation by association'!
- 6 June 73 454 Is science-information information-science? Bridging gap between the cultures of the professional and trade associations.
- 13 June 73 456 Eggheads or not—scientists and engineers will find CC/BS&ES intellectually exciting!
- 20 June 73 458 The mythology of scientific information and doomsday philosophers.
- 27 June 73 460 Illusions of grandeur—and other disappointments.
- 4 July 73 461 How WSI can save you and yours some searching time!
- 11 July 73 463 WSI and CC use simplified by shifting 'multi/chem' journals; CC/AB&ES coverage increased.
- 18 July 73 465 Learn to complain; the ultimate responsibility is with the individual, not the corporation.
- 25 July 73 467 Science for the sake of science is not without its justifications.
- 1 Aug 73 469 The pulling power of Current Contents and the reward system of science.
- 8 Aug 73 471 A new Weekly Subject Index to Current Contents/Behavioral, Social & Education Sciences means more timely access to the social and behavioral sciences literature.
- 15 Aug 73 473 The new ISI Journal Citation Reports should significantly affect the future course of scientific publication.
- 22 Aug 73 475 The economics and Realpolitik of exponential information growth; or, journal selection ain't easy!
- 29 Aug 73 477 New section in CC/LS designed to cover the non-journal literature.
- 5 Sept 73 479 Full text searching systems just around the corner?

Contents

- 12 sept 73 481 How is the ISI Press Digest doing?
- 19 Sept 73 483 Of shortages and stability—what couldn't happen, has!
- 26 Sept 73 485 Which journals attract the most frequently cited articles?
- 3 Oct 73 487 More on forecasting Nobel prizes and the most cited scientists of 1972!
- Reprint 487 E. Garfield. Citation and distinction.
Nature 242:485, 1973.
- 10 Oct 73 489 Jabberwocky, the Humpty-Dumpty syndrome and the making of scientific dictionaries!
- 17 Oct 73 491 Were the 1972 papers most cited in 1972 the most significant?
(Highly cited articles. 1.)
- 24 Oct 73 494 The social impact of science and technology, and the growth of anti-science.
- 31 Oct 73 496 The 25 most cited 1971 papers reveal a great deal about research in 1971. (Highly cited articles. 2.)
- 7 Nov 73 500 Current Contents/Social & Behavioral Sciences—a component of ISI's total information system for the social and behavioral sciences.
- 14 Nov 73 502 Why can't doctors be more human like the rest of us? More on the physician-patient relationship.
- 21 Nov 73 504 Highly cited works in mathematics. 1. 'Pure' mathematics.
(Highly cited articles. 3.)
- 28 Nov 73 509 Highly cited works in mathematics. 2. 'Applied' mathematics.
(Highly cited articles. 4.)
- 5 Dec 73 514 ISI cares—do you? What can you do about improving scientific journals as a communications medium?
- 12 Dec 73 516 What can the history of Current Contents tell us about the future of the social sciences?
- 19 Dec 73 519 The 1970 papers most frequently cited from 1970–1973.
(Highly cited articles. 5.)
- 26 Dec 73 523 Does the quality of Soviet science justify double coverage in CC? Copyright controversy calls for reappraisal!
- Reprint 527 E. Garfield. Citation analysis as a tool in journal evaluation. Science 178:471–79, 1972.
