

Contents

List of Figures	vii
List of Syntactic Conventions	ix
1 Introduction	1
Research Goals
Overview of the LIRS
2 Discussion of Related Work	5
Information Systems
Recent Developments in Legal Information Retrieval
A System for Simulating Legal Reasoning
Semantic Networks
3 An Introduction to Negotiable Instruments Law	19
The Uniform Commercial Code
What is a Negotiable Instrument?
The Drawer's, Maker's, and Indorser's Contracts
Accommodation Parties
The Holder in Due Course Doctrine
Forgery and Alteration
The Rights and Obligations of Banks
4 A Model of Classificational Knowledge	29
Simple Links
Semi-Complex Links
Complex Links
5 A Classificational Model of Negotiable Instruments Law	39
Instruments and Constituents
Parties
Liabilities
Role Relationships

6	A Language for Describing Complex Situations	55
	The Category Description Language
	The Situation Description Language
7	The LIRS Data Base	61
	Content Description of Data Items
	The Statute Network
	The LIRS Indexing System
8	The User Interface	73
	The DESCRIBE Command
	The FIND Command
	Displaying the Results
	The CITES Command
	The ISSUES Command
9	Semantic Information Retrieval	85
	The Data Base Search
	The Selection Process
	The Semantics of Information Retrieval
	Example
10	Conclusions	115
	Information Retrieval
	The Classificational Model
	A Limitation of the Retrieval Algorithm
	Practical Implications
Notes		125
Appendix A: Example Cases		127
Appendix B: The Negotiable Instruments Model		149
Appendix C: Document Descriptors and DESCRIBE Output for Cases in Appendix A		159
Appendix D: LISP Programs for Retrieval in Three Modes		167
Bibliography		173
Index		177

