
CONTENTS

List of Texts	vii
Preface	xix
Note on Sources and Method	xxxix
Acknowledgments	xxxiii

Historical Introduction	1
-------------------------	---

Chapter 1. The First World War and Its Impact, 1914–1921	61
Chapter 2. Science Meets Politics: The Relativity Revolution, 1918–1923	93
Chapter 3. Anti-Semitism and Zionism, 1919–1930	136
Chapter 4. Internationalism and European Security, 1922–1932	189
Chapter 5. Articles of Faith, 1930–1933	223
Chapter 6. Hitler's Germany and the Threat to European Jewry, 1933–1938	266
Chapter 7. The Fate of the Jews, 1939–1949	315

Chapter 8. The Second World War, Nuclear Weapons, and World Peace, 1939–1950	356
Chapter 9. Soviet Russia, Political Economy, and Socialism, 1918–1952	406
Chapter 10. Political Freedom and the Threat of Nuclear War, 1931–1955	459
<hr/>
Bibliography	509
Index	515
Plate Credits	524

LIST OF TEXTS

Chapter 1: The First World War and Its Impact, 1914–1921

Initial Moral Outrage

Manifesto to the Europeans, mid-October 1914	64
Letter to Heinrich Zangger, ca. 10 April 1915	67
Letter to Hendrik A. Lorentz, 21 July 1915	68
Letter to Hendrik A. Lorentz, 2 August 1915	69
Letter to Romain Rolland, 15 September 1915	71
My Opinion on the War, late October, early November 1915	73
Letter to Heinrich Zangger, 21 August 1917	77
Letter to Romain Rolland, 22 August 1917	78
Letter to David Hilbert, before 27 April 1918	80

Into the Fray

On the Need for a Legislative Assembly, 13 November 1918	82
In Support of Georg Nicolai, 26 January 1920	84

The Primacy of Reconciliation and the Rescue of Science

Welcoming Address to Paul Colin, 16 December 1919	86
On the Contribution of Intellectuals to International Reconciliation, after 29 September 1920	87

On Internationalism, 26 March 1921	88
The Plight of German Science: A Danger for the Nation, 21 December 1921	90
Chapter 2: Science Meets Politics: The Relativity Revolution, 1918–1923
Confronting Critics
Dialogue about Objections to the Theory of Relativity, 29 November 1918	97
Time, Space, and Gravitation, 28 November 1919	104
My Response: On the Anti-Relativity Company, 27 August 1920	105
Letter to Arnold Sommerfeld, 6 September 1920	109
American Hoopla: A Twice-Told Tale
An Interview with Professor Einstein, 4 July 1921	111
Einstein's Impressions of America: What He Really Saw, 10 July 1921	112
Crossing the Rhine
Letter to Paul Langevin, 27 February 1922	114
Letter to Paul Langevin, 6 March 1922	116
Letter to the Prussian Academy of Sciences, 13 March 1922	117
With Einstein in the Devastated Regions, 15 April 1922	118
Shattered Hopes: The Rathenau Assassination
From the Vantage Point of the Moon, 11 June 1922	120
In Memoriam Walther Rathenau, after 24 June 1922	123
On the Memorial Service for Rathenau, 1 July 1922	124
Anti-Relativists on the March
Letter to Max Planck, 6 July 1922	125

Reply to the German Embassy in Tokyo,
20 January 1923 126

Looking Back on Scientific Revolutions

Foreword to Philipp Frank, *Einstein:
His Life and Times*, ca. 1942 129

Foreword to Galileo Galilei, *Dialogue
Concerning the Two Chief World Systems,
Ptolemaic and Copernican*, ca. 1953 132

Chapter 3: Anti-Semitism and Zionism, 1919–1930

Forging New Bonds of Solidarity

Immigration from the East, 30 December 1919 139

Assimilation and Anti-Semitism, 3 April 1920 142

A Letter of Confession, 3 April 1920 146

Making the One-Armed Man Whole

Letter to Fritz Haber, 9 March 1921 148

How I Became a Zionist, 21 June 1921 149

On a Jewish Palestine, 1 July 1921 153

On the Founding of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, 26 August 1921 156

The Scope of Research at the University,
ca. August 1921 158

A Moral and Spiritual Home

My Impression of Palestine, 11 May 1923 160

Mission, 17 February 1925 164

The Mission of Our University, 27 March 1925 166

Internal and External Effects, 1927 168

Letter to Willy Hellpach, Summer 1929 170

The Shaken Rock

Creating a Modus Vivendi, August 1929 172

The Palestine Troubles, 12 October 1929 174

Letter to the Editor of Falastin, 28 January 1930 181

Letter to the Editor of Falastin, 15 March 1930 183

Redoubling Efforts, 3 December 1930 185

The Jewish Mission in Palestine,
13 December 1930 187

Chapter 4: Internationalism and European Security, 1922–1932Internationalism's Intellectual Elite

Internationalism of Science, ca. 1922	192
Statement on Resigning from the Committee on Intellectual Cooperation, June 1923	194
Letter to Marie Curie, 25 December 1923	195
Report on Meeting of the Committee on Intellectual Cooperation, 29 August 1924	196
Letter to Hendrik A. Lorentz, 9 January 1925	198
The Institute for Intellectual Cooperation, 16 January 1926	200
Letter to Paul Painlevé, 9 April 1930	202

On World Affairs

On Asia, 17 May 1925	205
Statement to Berliner Tageblatt , 1927	206
Interview in Neue Zürcher Zeitung , 20 November 1927	207
Letter to Jacques Hadamard, 24 September 1929	210
Stresemann's Mission, November 1929	212
Letter to Chancellor Heinrich Brüning, 3 October 1931	214

Einstein and Freud on the Causes of War

Letter to Sigmund Freud, 30 July 1932	216
Letter to Sigmund Freud, 3 December 1932	221

Chapter 5: Articles of Faith, 1930–1933The Moral Foundations

What I Believe, October 1930	226
Religion and Science, 9 November 1930	231

Two Articles of Faith: Democracy and Militant Pacifism

Letter to the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, 3 July 1930	235
--	-----

Radio's Challenge to Promote International Understanding, 22 August 1930	237
Defeating the Specter of Militarism, 11 December 1930	238
The Two Percent Speech, 14 December 1930	240
Impressions of the U.S.A., ca. 1931	242

Debacle in Geneva

America and the Disarmament Conference of 1932, 16 June 1931	248
The 1932 Disarmament Conference, 4 September 1931	250
The Road to Peace, 22 November 1931	253
Press Conference on the Geneva Disarmament Conference, 23 May 1932	257
Statement on the Herriot Plan, 18 November 1932	259

America and Europe in an Hour of Crisis

Reply to the Women of America, 3 December 1932	262
On German-American Understanding, 23 January 1933	263

Chapter 6: Hitler's Germany and the Threat to European Jewry, 1933–1938

Responding to a State of Psychic Distemper

Political Manifesto, 11 March 1933	269
Statement on Conditions in Germany, 28 March 1933	270
Response to the Declaration of the Prussian Academy, 5 April 1933	272
Letter to Max Planck, 6 April 1933	273
Reply to the Prussian Academy, 12 April 1933	275
Letter to Paul Ehrenfest, 14 April 1933	276
Letter to Max von Laue, 26 May 1933	277
Speech in Royal Albert Hall, 3 October 1933	278

Pacifism Reconsidered
Letter to Alfred Nahon, 20 July 1933	283
A Re-examination of Pacifism, January 1935	284
The Bitter Fruit of Cultural Disintegration
Letter to Stephen S. Wise, 6 June 1933	287
Letter to Stephen S. Wise, 18 November 1933	289
Tribute to Stephen S. Wise on his 60th Birthday, March 1934	290
Foreword to The World as I See It , 1934	291
Victims of Fascism, 22 October 1935	293
On Hitler, 1935	294
Resisting Temptation While Preserving the Essence
The Goal of Jewish-Arab Amity, 20 April 1935	297
Judaism in Peril, 27 June 1935	298
Our Debt to Zionism, 17 April 1938	300
Why Do They Hate the Jews?, 26 November 1938	303
A Painful Retrospective
Letter to Michele Besso, 10 October 1938	311
Ten Fateful Years, 1938	312
Chapter 7: The Fate of the Jews, 1939–1949
Persecution and the Rage against Reason
The Dispersal of European Jewry, 21 March 1939	318
Credo as a Jew, 1941	320
On the Mentality of the German Ruling Caste, 17 November 1942	321
The Goal of Human Existence, 11 April 1943	322
The Palestine Problem
Palestine, Setting of Sacred History of the Jewish Race (with Erich Kahler), 14 April 1944	324
Arabs Fare Better in Palestine than in Arab Countries (with Erich Kahler), 28 April 1944	330

Bearing the Brunt

- To the Heroes of the Battle of the Warsaw
Ghetto, 1944 334
- Preface to a Jewish Black Book, before
24 August 1945 336

Official American and British Attitudes

- Commemorative Words for FDR,
27 April 1945 338
- The American Council for Judaism,
14 December 1945 339
- Testimony at a Hearing of the Anglo-American
Committee of Inquiry, 11 January 1946 340
- Letter to Michele Besso, 21 April 1946 345

Striving for Right and Justice

- Appeal to Jews to Work for Goal of Common
Welfare (with Leo Baeck), 12 April 1948 347
- Before the Monument to the Martyred Jews
of the Warsaw Ghetto, 19 April 1948 349
- To the University of Jerusalem, 15 March 1949 351
- The Jews of Israel, 27 November 1949 352

Chapter 8: The Second World War, Nuclear Weapons, and World Peace, 1939–1950Fighting Fascism

- Letter to Franklin Delano Roosevelt,
2 August 1939 359
- Letter to Alexander Sachs, 7 March 1940 361
- Letter to Niels Bohr, 12 December 1944 364
- Letter to Franklin Delano Roosevelt,
25 March 1945 365

Vision for a New World Order

- Letter to Emery Reves, 28 August 1945 367
- Letter to J. Robert Oppenheimer,
29 September 1945 369

Letter to Emery Reves, 29 October 1945	371
Going Public on the Bomb
Letter to Raymond Gram Swing, 27 August 1945	371
On the Atomic Bomb, as Told to Raymond Swing, before 1 October 1945	373
Recommended Reading, 30 October 1945	378
Reply to Sumner Welles's article on the Atomic Bomb and World Government, January 1946	380
The War Is Won, but the Peace Is Not, 10 December 1945	381
Roadblock at the United Nations
The Real Problem Is in the Hearts of Men, 23 June 1946	383
Open Letter to the General Assembly of the United Nations, October 1947	388
A Reply to the Soviet Scientists, December 1947	393
Letter to M.P. Henry C. Usborne, 9 January 1948	398
Controlling Weapons of Mass Destruction
Letter to A. J. Muste, 31 October 1949	401
Statement for Appearance on Today with Mrs. Roosevelt , 10 February 1950	403

Chapter 9: Soviet Russia, Political Economy, and Socialism, 1918–1952

Early Thoughts on Socialism and the Soviet Experiment

To the Society "A Guaranteed Subsistence for All," 12 December 1918	409
Letter to Hedwig and Max Born, 27 January 1920	410
Foreword to German Version of Bertrand Russell's Political Ideals , 1922	411

On a Document Collection from Russian Prisons, 1925	412
On the Fifth Anniversary of Lenin's Death, 6 January 1929	413
Reflections on Economics at the Onset of the Great Depression
Thoughts on the World Economic Crisis, ca. 1930	414
Production and Purchasing Power, 7 November 1931	418
Production and Work, 22 September 1932	419
Intellectual Elitism and Political Idealism
Letter to Sigmund Freud, 1931–1932	421
Letter to Henri Barbusse, 6 June 1932	423
Letter to Henri Barbusse, 17 June 1932	424
Statement for the Amsterdam Peace Congress, 26 August 1932	425
Letter to the German Committee against Imperialist Wars, 29 September 1932	426
Letter to Victor Margueritte, 19 October 1932	427
Letter to Chaim Weizmann, 20 November 1932	428
Statement on Willi Münzenberg's Brown Book, early September 1933	430
Thoughts on Forming a Council of the Wise, 14 March 1939	431
Freedom and Socialism Reconsidered
On Freedom, ca. 1940	433
Is There Room for Individual Freedom in a Socialist State?, ca. July 1945	435
Why Socialism?, May 1949	439
Principles versus Praxis
Was Europe a Success?, 3 October 1934	447
Letter to Sidney Hook, 23 February 1937	448
Letter to Max Born, 1937	450
Address to Jewish Council on Russian War Relief, 25 October 1942	451

Letter to John Dudzic, 8 March 1948	454
Letter to Sidney Hook, 16 May 1950	456
The Wisdom of Dialectical Materialism, 1952	457
Chapter 10: Political Freedom and the Threat of Nuclear War, 1931–1955
Voices of Freedom and Dissent
Red Terror by Way of Fascism: The Gumbel Case, 9 April 1931	463
On Academic Freedom: The Gumbel Case, 28 April 1931	464
Nominating Carl von Ossietzky for a Nobel Peace Prize, 27 October 1935	465
Carl von Ossietzky, 10 December 1946	466
In Memoriam Paul Langevin, May–June 1947	468
Outspoken American Citizen
I Am an American, 22 June 1940	470
On Political Freedom in the U.S.A., 1945	473
A Message to My Adopted Country, January 1946	474
Cold War Reverberations
The Military Mentality, Summer 1947	477
Letter to Sidney Hook, 3 April 1948	480
Letter to Jacques Hadamard, 7 April 1949	481
Letter to Gerhard Nellhaus, 20 March 1951	482
Symptoms of Cultural Decay, October 1952	484
On Intellectual Freedom, 18 November 1954	485
Letter to the Queen Mother of the Belgians, 2 January 1955	486
Hiroshima Redux
Reply to the Editor of Kaizo , 20 September 1952	488
Letter to Sidney Hook, 12 November 1952	489
Letter to Seiei Shinohara, 22 February 1953	490
Letter to Seiei Shinohara, 23 June 1953	491

Letter to Seiei Shinohara, 18 July 1953	492
Letter to Seiei Shinohara, 7 July 1954	493
The Fight against McCarthyism
Open Letter to William Frauenglass, 16 May 1953	494
Letter to Bertrand Russell, 28 June 1953	496
Human Rights, 20 February 1954	497
Letter to Norman Thomas, 10 March 1954	500
Promoting Peace
Letter to Bertrand Russell, 16 February 1955	501
Letter to Niels Bohr, 2 March 1955	503
Letter to Zvi Lurie, 4 January 1955	505
A Final Undelivered Message to the World, April 1955	506